Bless your sweet heart, Brenda. You are singing in the greatest choir ever and rejoicing in the Lord. We haven't seen you in years, but remember your laughter and one of the greatest hurts in your life as well as one of your biggest desires. You surely have earned favor with God and this rest. Prayers and condolences to those left behind to mourn your absence.

I often saw her at Dairy Queen . The last time I saw her we spoke about the Lord . It was great to get to talk and meet her when she would stop in with what I think was her sister . God bless her family . She confirmed to me she was a believer in Jesus Christ! Praise the Lord for getting to meet and speak to her those few times about the Lord !
