“ I have known Roger Jr since he came into this world, his mother Phyllis has been a dear friend of mine since we were small children. I was his Mother -in -Law for many years and I am the maternal grandmother of his three children: Larra, Andrew, and Mathew. When JR was around I always cooked for him, especially deviled eggs. I was suppose to be cooking for him this weekend; but as we all know that didn't happen. I have loved JR, worried for JR, and fussed at JR. Now I will miss Jr and my heart aches for his mother, aunt georgie, brothers, children, and all of his wonderful friends. Especially his best friend and cousin Little E; because I know you loved him and he loved you. JR is in a better place now and he will always be in my heart.

“ I left home a long time ago; and those who know me and my family know why. So I guess I grieved the loss of the man who raised my brothers and I a long time ago. Due to life choices he wasn't the same man. Today I grieve for the loss of the hope I had deep down for the future we might have shared. Just last month I invited my Dad to my house to see my daughter and I and he was unable to come. Then when he died I found out that he and his mother and aunt Georgia had planned to come this weekend; instead he is being laid to rest. I hope he has found peace. My Dad and I were not close; but deep down there is always a part of you that hangs on to hope that things will change. Life happens and I hope the last ten years of his life has given him some sort of happiness. One of the last things I said to him was "Dad, I think you are living each day to die; to see how far you can push it and still come back." I guess now we know; this time there was no coming back.

I would also like to take this moment to apologize to the family and the funeral home for the ignorance that caused incident that occurred at the funeral home today. I am truly ashamed of those actions. I think it was disrespectful to his mother and those who truly loved him. Most of all I feel My Dad was disrespected; he was still a person with feelings and no matter what he had done in his life he deserved better than that. I don't know who he was close to in the end but I do know if it were not for his Mother Phyllis, Aunt Georgi, and Cousin Little E he would have been gone a long time ago. So my sympathy is with you.

"Dad, right now my greatest regret is knowing you will not get to see my Beautiful and precious daughter grow up. I know she like me was your first and that makes us special. You will be missed and you were loved. "
